"Not Not", this puzzle game for iOS and Android will break your brain into pieces

On May 3rd 2017, Alt Shift indie game studio releases "NotNot", a new mobile game for iOS and Android mixing orientation, logic and reflexes.

The gameplay is quite simple, you only have to follow the written instructions to swipe your character towards the correct direction (up, down, left or right) and victory.

As you reach higher levels in the game, increasingly complex and varied instructions will require use of both your logic and dexterity for you to succeed. Will your brain be able to handle this challenge?

Two game modes are available:

- a classic mode, where players gradually unlocks the different types of challenges,
- an infinite mode, where players must go as far as possible, all puzzle types mixed together.

Available for free on iOS and Android, NotNot is the new must-have app for brain challenges lovers.

Interesting and enjoying ★★★★★ par Jed's Bestfriend – 28 févr. 2017

The game has easy mechanics. To follow instructions hence swipe of direction. I like how it plays my mind and how I can concentrate with the time allotted. This game can enhance your concentration gameplay not only in this game but in everything; Alertness may be the word. You will be more alert than ever when continuously playing this game. I hope more challenges and features are to be added in this game. Well done! ... plus

Amazing game! ★★★★★

par HKapples – 11 avr. 2017

NotNot is a fun, challenging, and hilarious game. This will cheat your brain many times, so when you finally finish a level, it's super satisfying. It consists of short levels (sometimes) and its very addicting.

This game is epic ★★★★★

par a notnot reviewer – 10 avr. 2017

This game is epic. The graphics are great, the game is enjoyable and it a brilliant game. It is quite challenging but is still really fun. You just got to have good reactions.

Fantastic ★★★★★

par Mishchief93 – 1 avr. 2017

Brilliant way to better cognitive understanding of instructions and the difference between surroundings and direction

Fun and addictive ★★★★★

par Runneroo – 27 mars 2017

Great game. Love that I can play it quickly on an ad break or whenever. Haven't played a game like this before. Simple yet so frustrating at times. Love it.

Super cool ★★★★★
